If this is your first time getting involved in the movie community, please feel free to start by just watching a few movies.. The next party will be at 6:30 PM PST, on October 10, in the #Seth and @RiotMason event room, both within a few blocks of each other.. This is a free-to-play event — for more info , here's the official D&D site . The game itself will be free to play until the end of the event, with optional purchases of new, exclusive gear. We'll start up the event right after the conclusion of the party.

For that reason, we're holding the next D&D party for the following weekend in October, 2012. The next party will happen at the same time as the next event. Please note that this party is for all levels of players. You must participate at the same time, but the event itself runs over the weekend, so you won't miss it (it's a four-way tie at the moment anyways, but all the four-way ties can be broken).. You may also enjoy the following:The next time you play D&D , a paladin will probably look like you.. Now we're asking you to explore our current D&D game and bring your ideas about how better to bring that experience alive, the other players around you, and a world you haven't seen before.. D&D has changed more than your party members' combat abilities in just 20 years. Its rules have changed in so many ways that every play session feels like a new adventure. As part of that process, we've become adept at keeping up with the ever-changing landscape of rules and the game's cultural influences.. Donations are gladly accepted, but all the money raised will be sent to a charitable organization. You can follow my work on any website, or follow me via Email and you receive automatic access to all the content I create. You can donate money and it's not an issue.

The Dungeon will be free, and we'll have plenty of dice to roll. For those of you who enjoy a game that includes the rules from a new adventure, the core rulebook will be available on the Wizards of the Coast website before November 19, 2012. And the rules sheet will be at the end of the event, as always.. M3F 2.1.5 M3F 2.1.5 includes updated source code and fixes. Version 1.0 - Added support for the Apple IIe..
